

Coopers School recognised with Artsmark Gold

We are delighted to announce that we have been awarded Artsmark Gold status by Arts Council England. This achievement reflects the work of students, the Creative and Performing Arts faculties and the school leadership team in their variety of performances, displays and work with the students and support to staff.

The panel particularly noted that the governor and school commitment to supporting arts teachers, particularly with the new Creative Arts Building opened in September 2015, was pleasing to see and the number of Art, Music, Dance and Drama teachers was commendable. At Coopers School, we pride ourselves on encouraging students to plan, experience and participate in a range of arts and cultural activities, and this is one of our strengths over local schools in the area.

We have an extremely busy half term coming up which reflects our new Artsmark Gold status, including the upcoming Cabaret on 14 and 15 November, the KS3 Band on the Run concert on 30 November and Christmas Carol Service at St Nicholas' Church on 19 December, with numerous trips also being offered. We are thrilled to be part of a network of Artsmark schools and look forward to consolidating and building upon our successes to date.
